Indians on Rampage

RANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 29.—Handed to the University of Oklahoma today in a spectacular game that began in a drizzle of rain and ended in darkness. The superior ability of the Redskins in carrying the ball more than offset the handicap of a muddy field and Tulsa's weight.

The swift Indian backfield, supported by a thundering line, surprised the Tulsa in the opening quarter. A series of brilliant runs and a brilliant broken field running, enabled the Redskins to cross the Tulsa goal line for two touchdowns in the first quarter.

Tulsa branched in the second quarter and almost threatened to score when three successful forward passes in a row carried the ball to within 20 yards of the Indian goal, where an attempted dropkick failed. Good generalship called for a punt and Tulsa scored for their third touchdown near the close of the first half.

Both teams battled evenly during the remainder of the game, where wily forward passes and long punts featured the play of both teams.

Football Facts Worth Knowing

Q. After a fair catch has been allowed and the captain has elected to try a pass kick, may he change his mind and ask to scrimmage? A. He cannot.

Q. May the offensive center receive a forward pass? A. He may, provided he was on the end of the scrimmage line when the ball was put in play.

Q. If a forward pass is touched by an eligible player before the ball touches the ground is the play legal? A. No, unless a defensive man touches the ball between them.

Q. If a forward pass is touched by an ineligible player, is the play legal? A. No, unless a defensive man touches the ball between them.

Q. They have their choice of selections. They may take the ball at the spot of the preceding down, or it may go as a touchback, as the case may be. A. Yes.

Q. If a team has 20 yards to go for a first down and it receives an aerial attack, may it receive a second scrimmage for a gain of five yards, does it still have fifteen yards to gain? A. It is still down, 10 yards to gain, owing to the fact that the opponents were given a fair and equal chance to gain possession of the ball.

Q. If an agreement is reached 10 minutes before the game begins, may the referee allow the game to proceed and full time shall be played. A. No.

Q. If a kick is made under the conditions of the preceding question and it does not score, may the opponents run with the ball and will a touchdown on such a play be allowed? A. No, but a kick only is allowed.

Q. May the team kicking receive such a ball behind the opponent's goal line, or may it there, thus securing a touchdown if the goal is not kicked? A. Yes, time is not up until the ball is declared dead by the referee.

35,000 WITNESS GAME

Georgians Fought Every Inch of Way but Could Not Halt Penn Players

By JACK YERGEN. NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Scoring a touchdown in each quarter and playing consistent football throughout the afternoon, Penn State swamped Georgia Tech, 28 to 7, in a crowd of 35,000 people here this afternoon.

Watch Killinger was the warning that had been handed to the Georgia before the game. And it was Killinger, his snappy playing and his wonderful generalship in running the state team that enabled him to lead his team to a score such a brilliant victory over one of the greatest teams that ever came out of the south.

Don kicked off to McDonough, who returned to the 35-yard line. Harlan hit the line for ten yards, Harlan started right and put the ball on State's 47-yard line. Pennington then went over the touchdown and Lyman kicked goal. Lyman kicked right and put the ball on the 47-yard line and ran the full length of the field for a touchdown. Lightner kicked goal.

CENTRE DEFEATS HARVARD UNITS

Kentucky Team Never in Danger in Fast Cambridge Game

M'MILLAN IS THE HERO

Coach Fisher Threw Every Substitute Available In, but No Use

By the Associated Press. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 29.—Centre college of Danville, Ky., scored a remarkable football triumph in the Harvard stadium here this afternoon, defeating the Crimson 6 to 0, as the result of a touchdown made by "Bo" McMillan.

The college team was a far superior aggregation than the one defeated 21 to 14 on the same field a year ago. Harvard was generally outplayed by the so-called "Traying" center, but a desperate rally in the first period changed the result except for a penalty.

A forward pass, Buell to Churchill, gave Harvard the ball on Centre's 15-yard line, but offside play gave Centre a 5-yard penalty and a second attempt from Centre's 37-yard line was interrupted by Bartlett.

By ROBERT E. HARLOW. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 29. Danville, Ky., is now probably in flames. "Bo" McMillan of Centre college, as this is written, is being carried out of the Harvard stadium upon his shoulders by the cheering crowd of football fanatics who saw his Centre college team beat Harvard today, 6 to 0.

The contest from the standpoint of the playing on the field and the crowd in the stands, was one of the most spectacular ever seen inside the famous horseshoe. Centre got off to a fast start, but Harvard's defense was so stout that Centre was unable to win for the Crimson.

Centre reversed the deficit received under McMillan's leadership at the stadium last year with McMillan the leader again. An offside play in the third period of the game late in the third period and the end of the game found "Bo" McMillan alone in the end zone. He had relinquished so that another man might have a chance.

With the sound of the final whistle, "Traying" McMillan picked up the pigskin, turned to Centre's acting captain and said: "Mr. Morrison, here's your ball." McMillan took it with a flourish, thanked, danced up the field and then turned back and was overtaken by fellow players who kissed him on the cheeks and carried him into a massing crowd that soon numbered hundreds.

Although Harvard in the fourth period had planted the ball on Centre's threshold, three yards from the goal, only to have it called back to the 21-yard line, Centre ordered the men he was saving for Princeton and Yale into the fray in a vain effort to save the Crimson from defeat. Centre showed an entirely different looking eleven than that which played here last year.

Centre astonished enemy. Then they brought up stars, clever at passing and running, but the team lacked cohesion. To the complete astonishment of everyone here, Centre's eleven, which was a college model proved to be a well-trained, fast-running and hard-hitting football unit capable of delivering a collection of punts and smashes well directed attack.

Centre received the kickoff and Hubbard blocked Bartlett's return. The ball was brought to Centre's 20-yard line. Snoddy made 10 yards through the line. After an exchange of plays for the last Centre tried a fieldgoal but failed. Chapin ran 20 yards to midfield for Harvard on the next play. Throughout the remainder of the quarter play disengaged with neither side gaining.

Score: Harvard, 0; Centre, 6. Second quarter: Harvard gained first down on a fake kick. Centre held and Harvard drove to the 10-yard line. Harvard tried to try for a field goal, but he failed. Centre punted out of danger and there were no further scoring opportunities during the quarter.

Score end of first half—Harvard 0, Centre 6. Third quarter: Soon after the start of the quarter Harvard was penalized 15 yards for roughness. Centre drove the ball on Harvard's 32-yard line. Bo McMillan flashed around Harvard's right end for a touchdown. Bartlett failed to kick goal. Chapin received the kickoff back of his goal line and ran the ball in 15 yards. Gehrke punted to Bartlett on Centre's 21-yard line. Harvard began to shoot but Harvard held and there was no further scoring.

Fourth quarter: Harvard cheer leaders were cheering their team to fight. McMillan carried the ball to Harvard's eight-yard line, but Centre lost the ball on an attempted forward pass. Harvard made 12 yards on its crack backfield men into the struggle and made a first down on its own 30-yard line. Centre was penalized 15 yards for holding and the ball was on Centre's 15-yard line. Roberts punted to Buell on the 45-yard line. Buell and Churchill pulled a forward pass that put the ball on Centre's four-yard line but the ball was called back for Harvard's offside play. Harvard tried desperately to score by the forward pass route but failed.

Final score—Harvard—0, Centre 6.

By the Associated Press. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 29.—The south was victorious at the stadium today. Men from Centre college of Kentucky, "Traying" "Bo" McMillan, and football players of high degree, with "Bo" McMillan driving them on, defeated the Harvard eleven by a score of 6 to 0. The representatives of the smallest college on the Crimson schedule had accomplished what no other team had been able to do in 40 years—defeat Harvard in an inter-sectional battle. It was five years since the Crimson had defeat on its own or any other field.

The victory belonged to the redoubtable "Bo" McMillan, backed by his mates of an alert and aggressive team. A well-knit defensive line held Harvard safe. McMillan, thwarted time after time, seized his opportunity in the third period and broke through the Harvard line, reversing the score of the smallest college on the Crimson schedule had accomplished what no other team had been able to do in 40 years—defeat Harvard in an inter-sectional battle.
